TRUK BOMBED BY AMERICAN LAND PLANES

STILLWELL'S TROOPS SLAUGHTER 400 IN BURMA

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Friday, March 31 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today in a special communique that southwest Pacific bombers had hit the Japanese base at Truk, for the first time.

The communique reported 200 direct hits on the Truk airdrome area and 49 parked planes destroyed.

In a previous communique today MacArthur already had announced that Navy Catalina bombers had bombed Woleai Island, enemy seaplane base and airfield in the Caroline Islands, 460 nautical miles west of Truk.

Eten Island in the Truk atoll was the target of the raid at noon Wednesday. Five to 20 out of 90 enemy interceptors were shot down.

Raid At Midnight

The raid on Wolcai, only 380 miles south of Japanese-occupied Guam, American possession in the Mariana Islands, was staged at midnight Tuesday night.

The southwest Pacific planes' assault on Truk preceded by a few hours after pounding given the Japanese naval and plane base by central Pacific bombers operating under Adm. Chester W. Nimitz. The central Pacific airmen, striking Wednesday night also hit Eten Island, and Moen Island.

Parked planes destroyed at Truk included 35 fighters, four medium bombers and 10 dive bombers.

MacArthur also announced Allied air smash at the enemy base at Hollandia, northern New Guinea coast, where 108 planes were destroyed on the ground and 10 intercepting Zeros were shot down. This raid also was Wednesday.

Other Allied raids around the Bismarck Sea perimeter also were reported in MacArthur's earlier communique.

ATTACKERS MOWED DOWN

New Delhi, March 30 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's American and Chinese troops in northern Burma have slaughtered at least 400 Japanese in repulsing five savage counter - attacks launched in an attempt to rescue a force of approximately 1,000 Japanese trapped by a roadblock north of Leban in the Mogaung Valley.

Stilwell's combined force, which encircled two makeshift battalions of the Japanese 18th division two days ago by cutting the main road 14 miles inside the Mogaung Valley, threw withering fire into the frenzied attackers, and when the Japanese finally retired they left their dead stacked in front of the Allied positions, it was disclosed today.

Perhaps the most amazing feature of the bloody fight was the discovery that not a single American or Chinese was killed and only a handful wounded. The toll of Japanese brought to at least 640 the number of enemy killed since Stilwell's forces swept into the Mogaung Valley March 19 in their drive southward the main enemy base at Myitkyina.

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's southeast Asia headquarters estimated that another 2,500 Japanese had been killed by British forces opposing the enemy's invasion of India. Hard but inconclusive fighting raged inside the India border yesterday. There was no indication that any of the four Japanese invasion columns had gained any ground in the past 24 hours.

Sofia Shaken Second Time In Air Attack

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 30 (AP)—Explosive-scarred Sofia was blasted from the air today for the second time in 24 hours by the largest force of heavy bombers ever sent against a single target from Mediterranean bases.

Both U. S. Fortresses and Liberators participated in the new assault and reached the Bulgarian capital while it still was smoking from a heavy blow last night by RAF Liberators and Wellingtons.

Fighter opposition was fairly strong over the city, returning fliers reported, and the bombers and their escort of Lightning and Thunderbolt fighters destroyed several enemy interceptors.

The attack was directed at Sofia's vital railroad yards through which passes the main line from Berlin to Istanbul, Turkey, and other Balkan points. However, other targets in the capital also were hit.

The bombing set off huge explosions and crews reported smoke rose 10,000 feet as they left and the "choke points" of the rail yards were completely blanketed by their bombs.

CHURCHILL NIPS HIS OPPOSITION

Prime Minister Receives 425 To 23 Vote Of Confidence

London, March 30 (AP)—Stocky, scrappy Prime Minister Churchill pulled a rebellious House of Commons firmly into line today and won a 425-to-23 vote of confidence—his strongest showing since January, 1942—and served plain notice that he intended to run Britain's wartime program, both domestic and foreign, entirely or not at all.

Thus the House showed its solidarity behind the Churchill leadership on the eve of the planned invasion of western Europe even though, as many members put it, they had to eat their own words and "vote against something we were really for."

Churchill had staked his government's existence on a demand that the House kill an amendment to an education bill providing equal pay for men and women teachers, a comparaatively minor domestic issue which the government had opposed but which had been passed in committee, 117 to 116.

Big Increase Noted In War Casualties; Total Now 173,239

Washington, March 30, (AP)—American war casualties showed a sharp increase today when Secretary of War Stimson revealed the total through March 15 to be 173,239. It was an increase of 3,947 over a previous report a week ago.

Army casualties totalled 130,619, made up of 22,570 killed, 53,124 wounded, 27,183 missing and 27,742 prisoners. Of the latter, 1,675 have been reported by enemy sources as having died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied territory.

The total for the navy, marines and coastguard as reported today was 42,620, being 18,087 killed, 10,974 wounded, 9,138 missing and 4,421 prisoners. Of the total, the navy had 28,043, the marines 14,123 and the coast guard 452.

Of 53,124 army wounded, 27,296 have returned to duty, Secretary Stimson said.

Grand Jury Indicts Cremation Slayer Of Rose Brancato

New Haven, Conn., March 30 (AP)—Walter William Law, accused as the cremation slayer of Rose Brancato, was indicted by a grand jury today on a charge of first degree murder.

Miss Brancato, 28, pretty New Haven newspaperwoman, disappeared last July 5, and police claim a confession from Law that he killed her that evening in the basement of the Woolworth building, where he was superintendent, and fed her body to a water heating furnace after opening the drafts and creating an intensely hot fire.

Law will be arraigned next Tuesday morning and, under Connecticut statues, only a plea of innocent will be accepted. The mandatory penalty for first degree murder in Connecticut is death in the electric chair.

STATE OFFICERS WILL RUN AGAIN

Auditor General Puts Aside His Previous Idea To Retire

Lansing, March 30 (AP) — At least four of the state's top elective officials will be candidates to succeed themselves during the forthcoming summer campaign.

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown broke the ice today with a formal statement he would "put aside" the idea of retiring for at least another two years.

Then, Secretary of State Herman H. Dignan and State Treasurer D. Hale Brake disclosed they, too, were candidates for reelection, asserting they had assumed everybody knew it anyway.

Without making any formal announcement, Governor Kelly has made it clear several times he will seek a second term. Lieut. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes has said he would decide within two weeks whether he will oppose Kelly in the Republican primaaries or run for reelection in his present post.

The only other chief elective official who is undecided is Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton and his friends predict he will not be a candidate again.

Kelly greeted Brown's announcement of candidacy warmly, asserting "I am glad he decided as he did, not only because of my close personal friendship with the auditor general, but also because of the splendid work he has done for the state."

Currency In Boxes Swells Estate Of Big Bill Thompson

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—One million, four hundred thousand dollars in currency was added to the estate of the late William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson, former mayor of Chicago, today when two safety deposit boxes were opened by his personal attorney, James W. Breen.

Breen said bills were crammed into one of the boxes so tightly that the mass jumped forth like a jack-in-the-box when it was opened.

A few days after Thompson's death March 19 it was thought his estate would not exceed $150,000. Breen said that two more boxes belonging to Thompson would be opened next week.

Men Called Last May Get Out First When War Finishes

Cleveland, March 30 (AP)—Predicting a "long drawn out and orderly demobilization," Col. Paul H. Griffith, chief of the veterans' personnel division of the selective service system, today declared he favored giving first discharges after the war to men inducted last.

"For some reason," he declared in an interview, "we called married men with children last. If the reason for calling them last was good, it should be equally good for releasing them first. I don't go along with those who say the boys who have been overseas for four or five years should be the first to come home."

STATION ABANDONED

Pentwater, Mich., March 30 (AP) — Abandonment of the coast guard station here was announced today by Chief Boatswain's Mate Frank F. Straubel. He said the station was being dismantled and its three-man crew would be transferred to other posts. The post, erected in 1882, was one of the oldest in Michigan.

RUMANIA RECEIVES WARNING TO TURN AGAINST HITLER

BY TOM YARBROUGH

London, Friday, March 31 (AP) —Battering down the barriers of Hitler's cringing satellite states, the Red army yesterday seized Czernowitz, German fortress that had guarded the path to Rumania and Hungary, and climbed up the Prut river banks into the Carpathian mountains to a point only 15 miles from the Hungarian-held corner of Czecho-Slovakia.

After storming Czernowitz and smashing its large German garrison, the Russians raced on through Storozhints, 11 miles to the southwest.

Hungarians Surrender

No move beyond the 1941 Soviet borders was reported, although Soviet troops remained poised along the Prut where it forms the Rumanian frontier southeast of Czernowitz, and broadened their grip on the north bank.

Hungarian Seventh division regiments helping the Germans defend Tlumach in the Carpathian foothills were routed, the communique said, while 300 Hungarians surrendered.

On the Ukraine front south and east of Byeltsi a large detachment of Humanian cavalry was routed, losing more than 200 horses while a Rumania infantry company surrendered, the Russians announced.

Taken By Storm

The bloodiest single action of the day as described by the Russian communique was annihilation of German groups encircled in the forests east of Mynkovisy, 28 miles northeast of Kamenets Podolsk.

In ground gained, the most significant thrust was on the east side of the big "box" of German-held territory enclosing Odessa. There the Russians showed advances up to 26 miles east of Voznesensk and said they were breaking into the retreating German formations, killing many.

Soviet troops pushed unchecked westward into the southeastern corner of old Poland and towards the old Czech border—now axis-Hungarian—at several points, the nearest being Delatyn, 15 miles from Tartar Pass that forms the

HARMONY SURE FOR DEMOCRATS

Party Lacks Candidates For Governor; County Rallies Tonight

Lansing, March 30 (AP)—A lack of avowed candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor brought party leaders today to predict unprecedented harmony at Democratic county conventions throughout the state Friday night.

Delegates to the party's state convention in Detroit April 14 will be chosen at the county meetings, and resolutions recommending planks for the Democratic platform this year may be adopted at some session.

There were reports some county conventions might attempt to bring forward the state sales tax as an issue, either proposing it be reduced or that a share of it be given to units of local government. Some conventions also were expected to criticize the state "soldier vote" law on the ground it was not broad enough.

Party leaders asked the county conventions not to endorse President Roosevelt for a fourth term, asserting that should be left to the state convention.

Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, and Mrs. Charles W. Tillett, assistant national chairman, will address the party's Jackson Day dinner in Detroit April 13, it was announced by Earnest C. Brooks, state chairman.

Tenant Gets Ton Of Coal In Bed

Augusta, Me., March 30, (AP)—One Augusta tenant got adequate coal.

In his absence, the tenement owner ordered coal for herself. When the coal man arrived she pointed to several basement windows and said: "Throw it in there."

Later, the tenant arrived to find a ton atop his bed and strewn over his basement living quarters.

Induction Of 4-F's For Work Favored

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

Washington, March 30 (AP) — Immediate induction of 4-F's for a special army work corps was recommended today by a House military sub-committee.

Acting shortly after Secretary of War Stimson had expressed disfavor for the whole idea, the House group made these formal recommendations.

"1. That the War Department accept and use men for special labor duty and that the department publicly so announce.

"2. That Selective Service process 4-F's for classification, deferring those then engaged in industry or agriculture so long as they remain so engaged.

"3. That appropriate legislation be drafted to cover, and supplement if necessary, compliance with the action proposed."

Chairman Costello (D-Calif) said the House group's recommendations were intended to apply also to the navy.

By directing deferement for those engaged in industry or agriculture, the program is intended to force a shift of 4-F's into essential occupations rather than actually to create large labor battalons in the armed services.

The committee decided to forgo an Easter recess in order to work on the proposed legislation. Costello said it would apply not only to 4-F's between the ages of 18 and 37—the brackets from which the armed services are drafting men—but also to non-fathers between 37 and 45 and 4-F's of every age.

While the draft law is sufficiently broad to permit induction of 4-F's for a works corps, army spokesmen have urged special legislation if this is to be done.

While the proposal for labor battalions was approved by Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson in testimony before the House group, Stimson voiced vigorous objections to it.

He told a news conference he would regard such a step a last resort, but that the final decision was to Congress and the War Department would cooperate in carrying out any moves the legislators approved for meeting the manpower problem.

ALLIES CONCEDE CASSINO DEFEAT

Stimson Declares Major Objectives Attained On Italian Front

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Acknowledging allied failure at Cassino, War Secretary Stimson said today that "the simple fact is the Germans stopped us," but he added:

"No one made this a test of allied power."

The secretary devoted part of his news conference to a discussion of the efforts to drive the Nazis from the bomb-rubbled town that straddles the road to Rome. The fighting has subsided, he said, "without achieving the results for which we had hoped."

He coupled with the statement, however, his own re-emphasis that allied forces already had attained major objectives in the Italian campaign: knocking Italy out of the war, capturing her fleet, occupying vital airports and pinning 19 German divisions to the Italian front, thus keeping them out of the Russian fighting.

Stimson said the fierce Nazi resistance at Cassino—still more than strong enough to fight off the allies despite terrific air bombardment of the fortress town, has shown that the Germans "are obstinate and effective soldiers who do not quit when they are ordered to hold a key post at all cost."

In a statement covering all theaters of war Stimson said the army air forces destroyed 9,463 enemy planes in the air and 1,579 on the ground last year while losing 2,885 craft. Demonstrating the mounting crescendo of allied air power, he said our forces destroyed nearly twice as many enemy planes in the last six months of the year as in early 1943.

Great RAF Armada Hammers Naziland After Thunderbolts

BY W. W. HERCHER

London, Friday, March 31 (AP) —RAF heavy bombers headed out toward the continent last night in two great forces which took more than an hour to cross the English coast, and almost immediately various German radio stations began filling the air with warnings.

One broadcast said "one enemy formation is over the Rhine and another formation is over the northern part of the Eifel area."

The Frankfurt radio left the air after warnnig: "Enemy bombers are heading toward us," and the last DNB announcement was "enemy formations are over Thurlngia, central Germany and northern Bavaria."

Those districts are on a line with Leipzig and Munich.

London itself had a brief alert early today and some gunfire was reported in suburban sections.

The RAF night action followed up daylight attacks by U. S. Thunderbolts on German airfields in Holland and the Holland-German border region.

Lakes Seamen Are Advised To Stick To Present Jobs

Cleveland, March 30 (AP)—A. T. Wood, director of the Great Lakes division, Office of Defense Transportation, today urged all Great Lakes seamen and officers "to remain in your present service," rather than seek ocean duty within the Maritime service.

"With the opening of the 1944 season on the lakes," Wood declared, "You will be assuming a major part in the war effort." He reported discussions are being held in Washington to determine how many transportation workers, including Great Lakes seamen and officers, "will be deferred in order to keep vital war transportation moving.

HAWAIIANS KEEP EYES ON NIPPON

Military Law Continues; Danger Of Invasion By Tokyo Still Imminent

BY LEIF ERICKSON

Honolulu, March 30 (AP)—Continuation of martial law in Hawaii is necessary because of the ever-present danger of an invasion by Japanese armed forces, the territory's top-ranking military commanders said in affidavits in a habeas corpus case to be heard in federal court tomorrow.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson voiced this conclusion in opposing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Lloyd C. Duncan. The case is expected to be a test of the status of martial law in the territory.

Duncan, former navy yard civilian worker, was sentenced to six months in jail by a provost court for assaulting two marine navy yard sentries. His attorney, Garner Anthony, former attorney general of Hawaii, contended that martial law now is unnecessary and that the provost court no longer has any legal standing.

Nimitz, commander of the Pacific ocean areas, and Richardson, army commander and military governor of Hawaii, said in their answer to the petition that the territory "is in imminent danger of invasion" and always has been since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941. They did no amplify this statement but asserted the conviction and sentencing of Duncan was necessary to prosecution of the war in these islands.

The case will be heard by Judge Delbert E. Metzger on his order that the government show cause why the petition should not be granted.

Pool Of New Cars Shrinks To 30,000

Washington, March 30 (AP) — Only about 30,000 new passenger automobiles are left in the ration pool, the Office of Price Administration said today in announcing the quota available for eligible motorists in April will be 16,000 cars, the same number provided this month.

Of the cars remaining, reduced from a total of 520,000 at the start of rationing in February, 1942, OPA expects to release all but 10,000 between now and July 1. That number will be held in reserve for rationing under a highly selective program.

The agency announced to meet seasonal demaands 12,000 new bicycles for adults will be rationed to certificate holders in April, an increase of 60 per cent over March.

Baby Starves While Mother Is On Trip

San Francisco, March 30, (AP)—Mrs. Marvin Flack, whose 8-year-old daughter, crippled and weighing only 15 pounds, was found dead in the deserted Flack apartment, told police at Iola, Kas., today the child had died early in February while she was away on a week-end visit and that she remained in the apartment with the body 24 days.

Mrs. Flack, about 30, told Harry Gardner, Iola police chief, the daughter, Dolores, died about Feb. 1 and that she did not know what caused her death.

Chief Gardner said Mrs. Flack told him she had gone on a week-end visit to San Rafael.

"I came back and found Dolores dead and I was so scared I didn't tell anybody. I stayed in the partment until about Feb. 24 and then I got so nervous about it I left and came home," Chief Gardner quoted the mother as saying.

"The soldier I left my car with and who was staying in the apartment while I was gone didn't know anything about it. He didn't even know I had a child."

Coroner John R. Kingston said a preliminary investigation indicated the child, found in a crib in the basement apartment, had died of starvation. He ordered an autopsy.

St. Mary's River Navigation Opens

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 30 (AP)—The shipping season opened today in the St. Mary's river with the arrival of the freighter W. G. Mather, laden with coal for the Algoma Steel Co. docks at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

The big lake freighter reached the mouth of the river early this evening. It is expected to reach its destination late Friday or early Saturday.

Two Coast Guard ice-breakers bucked snow driven by high winds yesterday to open a channel 35 feet wide in the lower river.

STRONG NAVAL FORCES REACH JAP DOORSTEP

PHILIPPINES ONLY 460 MILES AWAY; ENEMY FLEES

BY LEIF ERICKSON

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 30. (AP) — Powerful American naval forces, believed to include new aircraft carriers, opened up an assault Wednesday on Palau Island within 460 nautical miles of the Philippines, and Japanese warships fled the area rather than offer a fight.

Announcing the attack in a communique today, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said:

"Our attack continues."

Tojo Gets Away

Admiral Nimitz said that Japanese ships were observed fleeing from the Palau area before our fleet units could reach "attack positions."

The communique explained that the task force had been sighted by enemy planes searching from their bases from the Carolines and New Guinea.

The fact that Japanese ships fled is a definite indication that the American task forces probably are of the same overwhelming strength as the aircraft carrier forces which attacked Truk Feb. 16-17 and the Marianas Feb. 22.

The Nimitz communique did not describe the nature of the force attacking Palau but it is almost certain that it contains several new and large aircraft carriers. It is likely that the Palau attack is a heavy cruiser bombing strike such as those which blasted Truk and the Marianas.

More Details Coming

The communique text:

"Strong Pacific fleet forces, at dawn Wednesday, 29th of March (West Longitude date) initiated attacks on Japanese-held Palau Island. After discovery of the approach of our forces by enemy planes searching from their bases in the Carolines and New Guinea, their ships were observed fleeing the area before our units could reach attack positions.

"Our attacks continue. No further details are as yet available."

The fleet force attacked on Palau is the nearest blow of major power yet delivered in the direction of the Philippines. Palau is 906 nautical miles east and slightly south of Manila and about 2,000 nautical miles from Tokyo.

The Palau Islands are a group of 200 small, heavily wooded, volcanic islands at the western end of the Caroline chain. The communique's mention that enemy search planes operating from New Guinea as well as the Carolines detected the approaching task force suggests that the fleet force cruised south of Truk in closing in on Palau.

Trap Evaded

The Japanese had withdrawn warships from Truk after that naval base stronghold was battered Feb. 16-17. Some observers believed that some enemy combat ships probably were using Palau as an operational base.

One of the major purposes of the present Palau strike possibly

Service Is Resumed By Straits Ferry As Wind Goes Down

St. Ignace, Mich., March 30 (AP) —Ferry service across the Straits resumed today as winds that had reached 60 miles an hour abated. The ice-breaking carferry Ste. Marie, unreported for some hours last night, arrived to refuel for further operations.

Strong winds were still reported, however, on northern Lake Michigan. Three grand trunk carferries operating between Muskegon and Milwaukee remained in ports because of high seas.

WOODEN SLUGS USED BY NAZIS

Yanks Shot In Back By Snipers Infiltrating Behind Lines

Battle Creek, Mich., March 30. (AP)—Nazi snipers infiltrating behind advancing allied lines in Italy are using wooden bullets to shoot American soldiers in the back, wounded veterans convalescing at Percy Jones general hospital said today.

Although the wooden bullets, which have a range of 100 to 200 yards, sufficient to wound a foe, are fired in the direction of the German lines, they have not enough power to reach the Nazi front, the soldiers said.

Pvt. John B. Melzo, 27, of Saginaw, said "We seized four or five cases of these wooden bullets outside of Salerno." Melzo was wounded by Nazi machinegun fire.

Another soldier, Corp. Harold R. Brown, 22, of Greencastle, Ind., also said he had seen the bullets which are shaped like a .30 calibre shell with a brass casing and a hard wood plug pressed inside replacing the customary jacketed lead slug.

The German used the bullets at night, Sgt. Raymond J. Michael of Peoria, Ill., recalled.

"The Jerry would send a patrol back of our lines and then they'd open up with these wooden things. The range was short and they were sure with them that the bullets wouldn't go on past us and into the German lines."

boundary and is one of the few crossings in that region.

A railway runs up the mountain-flanked Prut river valley from Delatyn to the Czech border city of Korosmezo.

Odessa Encircled

The Soviets announced that the railway from Pervomaisk, deep in the Ukraine, to Byeltsi more than 150 miles westward, now has been entirely cleared of Germans, opening it to Russian use.

This route should greatly simplify the supply problem for the troops now on the Rumanian border as well as for those still pressing southward to smash in the big swath of territory in the Odessa region still held by the Germans.

In the far south the Russians announced thed had hurded the Bug river estuary from Nikolaev and taken the town of Varvarovka, on the west bank just above Nikolaev, along with 60 other villages.

This was a further advance into the great semi-circle around Odessa, the contracting edges of which are rapidly becoming the "Odessa inferno."

Although, on the far-flung fronts, the Russians reported they had freed more than 420 localities, more than 100 of them in the Czernowitz region.

The Germans themselves first announced the fall of Czernowitz.

Diaries Are Banned On Fighting Fronts

London, March 30 (AP)—An order calling in all diaries kept by Allied soldiers in the European theater of operations was issued tonight by the censor's office in a pre-western front tightening of the rules.

The diaries will be stored by the chief base censor for the duration of the war. They were called in, an official said, because it has been found that men in combat "have a habit of keeping diaries in their pockets where they are liable to be captured by the enemy." The information written in them sometimes is of military value.

Among other things banned is the playing of chess by transatlantic mail. It was explained this was done to prevent enemy agents from employing such mediums to get code messages across the atlantic.

The new security rules also ban correspondence with lonely hearts clubs back home and indulging in chain letters and round-robin circulars.

During World War I the British lost 2800 planes while destroying 8000 of the enemy's.

1-A Notices Now Come Without Prior Warning

(This is the second of two articles explaining new selective service policies and regulations.)

BY JACK I. GREEN

(Advance) Lansing Mar. 28, (AP)—If the postman catches you unawares one morning with notice you have been placed in 1-A, don't write your congressman that you weren't warned; it's your own fault.

The state selective service headquarters declares that one seed of confusion in the present draft program is the abandonment of the 10-day notice to you before your case is reopened for reclassification.

Brig. Gen. LeRoy Pearson, state selective service director, warns that you and your employer are responsible for keeping your draft board informed of any change in your status.

Under the new rule, draft boards may reopen cases at any time without notice to the affected parties. Most deferments are for stated periods and you and your employer have had reasonable warning of when a case will be ready for reconsideration. It is up to you to make sure your board always has the facts on which to act wisely.

Special Deferments

Under the new rule, draft boards now reopen all 2-A and 2-B cases 30 to 45 days before their expiration date. When they act, they act on the information before them and not on what you send them the following week.

Week-end amendments to selective service policies merely emphasize the program of speeding up the examination of all men under 26 years of age, irrespective of deferments, except agricultural.

Men under 26 are to be sent for examinations at once, without regard to the expiration of their deferment and without the necessity for reclassification procedure. When the age group has been completely examined, selective service officials and employers will have a better idea how deeply the draft must cut into the group.

The state selective service director still has authority to order special deferments for men under 26 in industry, and will be "advised" by industrial and governmental committees.

Draft boards now give you five days notice before you must report for a pre-induction examination. The service seeks to complete such examinations before a deferment expires, so that induction may follow the examination as closely as legally allowed.

Pearson warned that no classification is permanent and that local boards have authority to reopen them at any time.

Appeals from the decisions of the local boards must be filed within 10 days of the date the board's notice was mailed. If an appeal or request for a personal appearance is filed, the board will not act on it until after the pre-induction examination. If you are accepted for military service, then the board processes the appeal.

Rapidly reducing a backlog of appeals resulting from December changes in the draft laws, appeal boards now are reported to be acting on most appeals within 30 days.

Appeals to President

Pearson points out that if you are employed outside your original appeal board area and are in Class 2-A or 2-B your case must be reviewed by the appeal board having jurisdiction over your place of employment. The same board will consider direct appeals from employers and registrants, but the automatic appeal required by law takes precedence.

Appeals to the President from appeal board decisions may be authorized by Pearson if there is a dissenting vote among the appeal board members.

If you live in the lower peninsula, you will be sent to the Detroit induction station for physical examination, except in a few southwestern counties where you may go to the Chicago station. Except during April, all upper peninsula registrants are scheduled to go to the Marquette induction station.

Ten days to two weeks after you undergo pre-induction examination your local board will receive official notice of the results. Then it must mail you a notice of fitness, indicating the branch of service to which you have been assigned.

If you have a preference as to the branch, you should express it during the pre-induction examination, but it will be accepted only if your qualifications and the daily Army and Navy quotas permit.

You will have a minimum of 21 days after receiving your notice of fitness before you get orders to report to the induction station to enter the service. That period is allowed you to arrange your personal affairs. Since you are not yet a member of the services until sworn in at the induction station, you remain under the local board's authority and it may change your orders if the circumstances warrant.

At any time during those 21 days of grace, your local board may issue orders to report for duty, but it must allow you 10 days before actual induction.

After your induction, you won't need to worry about orders. The sergeant will give you personal guidance.

Magazine Suspended At Michigan State; Students Mourning

East Lansing, March 30 (AP)—A group of protesting Michigan State College students today wore black crepe paper arm bands after the Michigan State News, college daily, announced that the Spartan, college humor magazine, would be suspended for the duration on recommendation of a faculty committee appointed by President John A. Hannah.

The students said they objected to the reported action, and that they felt the magazine, established in 1936, was "part of Michigan State College that we shouldn't lose."

Otto Siegmund, Detroit senior and editor of the magazine, said the suspension follows recommendations of the committee that publication cease immediately because the Spartan "violated good taste in college publications, and because of increasing difficulties in obtaining staff members."

Hoffman Ties Up Congress Action On Easter Recess

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich) went on a one-man sitdown strike against a resolution to adjourn congress for the Easter holiday today and tied the house in a parliamentary knot.

The congressman threw the leadership of both parties into a series of protesting huddles when he objected to consideration of the adjournment resolution by raising the point of no quorum—and there wasn't a quorum. What's more, there weren't enough congressmen in town to make up a quorum.

Hoffman finally agreed to withdraw his point of order and the leadership decided to wait until tomorrow before pressing the resolution to a vote.

Only about fifty house members attended today's session. A quorum is a majority of the 435 members.

ROADS GRANTED $231,000

Lansing, March 30 (AP)—The federal public roads administration has granted Michigan $231,000, to be matched by the state, for surveying and planning 62 post-war construction projects, the state highway department said today.

Second Front Will Have To Be Made At Heavy Cost

Second front casualties will greatly exceed fifty per cent of the invading force and even after the Allies have established beachheads either in Western or Southern Europe they'll be compelled literally to blast their way through concrete for fifty miles while battling crack and superbly equipped German troops, Quentin Reynolds declares in the current issue of Collier's weekly.

"There will be plenty of surprises, plenty of unpredictable problems" once General Eisenhower attempts an amphibious operation the like of which neither Napoleon nor Hitler, as eager as they were to invade and conquer England, dared try, states Reynolds. He adds reassuringly:

"But when General Eisenhower gives the word to go, it will be because he thinks the chances are good . . . If he says we can do it . . . we can do it . . .

"It is a7 axiom of amphibious warfare that casualties increase relatively to the number of troops landed. If we land 200,000 men on our initial assault, we must expect well over fifty per cent casualties. If we land a million men, the percentage of casualties will rise sharply."

While the Germans have mined and strongly fortified the coastline from Norway to Spain they have "no intention of making their real stand on the beaches or behind the beaches" because, says Reynolds, the enemy realized that "real strong, permanent defenses that close to the coast would long since have been spotted and destroyed by our bombers or naval guns."

Babelthuap Island, largest in the Palau group, contains 142 square miles of land. It is the second largest land mass in the Carolines, exceeded only by Ponape.

The town of Koror just south of Babelthuap is the Japanese administrative seat for the 1,500 Caroline Islands.

(The task force strike against Palau occurred on the same day that Liberators of the seventh air force, probably operating from the western Marshalls, delivered an attack on Truk. And that air attack followed shortly after the first raid of the war on Truk by Liberators from the South Pacific.)

MARY HOGAN WILL IS FILED

Brothers And Sisters Are Named Beneficiaries In Large Estate

Brothers and sisters of the late Miss Mary Hogan, prominently known Escanaba business woman who has been associated with the William Bonifas interests for many years, alone are named beneficiaries in Miss Hogan's will which has been filed in probate court here.

The value of the estate is large, although the bequests mention but two figures—securities valued at $50,000. Miss Hogan was secretary to the late William Bonifas for many years, and following his death maintained the office of the Bonifas estate in Escanaba.

The will filed for probate is dated June 7, 1937, and names the following as beneficiaries:

Nora F. Hogan and Ellen H. Neufeld of Green Bay, sisters of the deceased, are to receive certain personal effects, jewelry and ornaments. The sisters also are to receive the home and its furnishings.

Dennis E. Hogan and John P. Hogan, Green Bay, brothers of the deceased, are bequeathed securities of the market value of $25,000 each.

The residue of the estate is to be divided one-half each to the two sisters, Nora and Ellen.

It is also requested in the will that Nora Hogan provide by her will that such portion of the property received by her, and remaining at the time of her death, be given to Joseph and Mary Ellen Neufeld, children of Ellen H. Neufeld.

Atty. James E. Frost of Escanaba and Victor F. Lemmer of Ironwood are named as executors in the will.

Bark River And Nahma Pass War Fund Goals

Bark River township yesterday joined Nahma in the list of those who have gone over the top in the 1944 Red Cross War Fund drive, now nearing its close.

Mrs. Al Johnson, chairman of the Bark River township committee, reported that returns made by all the solicitors showed a total collection of $1,243.51, or $43.51 over the quota. Mrs. Johnson said that additional contributions will be gladly accepted, however.

Nahma township has turned in a check for $1,787.67 to Fred J. Earle, treasurer of the Delta county chapter of the American Red Cross. The quota was $1,500. Nahma residents made an outstanding showing in the giving of a day's pay to the Red Cross. In fact, 63 per cent of Nahma's donors responded to this particular appeal.

In a letter to L. O. Heintz, chapter chairman, the Nahma township committee stated:

"We made a statement at a meeting prior to the opening of the drive that Nahma township could be counted on to meet 100 per cent of its quota and it is indeed with pleasure that we inform you that we now have 119 per cent of this quota. While we have turned in the amount collected to date, the drive will remain open here until March 31, and any amounts we receive will be mailed you then.

"A full measure of credit is due to all who spent their time and effort in contacting our people and securing their contribution, but the success or failure of this drive depended on the people of Nahma township, and it is to them that the credit for the success of this drive is due. The people of Nahma township, as witnessed by their contributions, appreciate the work of the American Red Cross is doing for their sons and daughters on all the battlefronts of this great war."

U. P. HOTELMEN PLAN MEETING

Conference Will Be Held In Marquette On April 1

Marquette—A sectional meeting of the Michigan Hotel Association, to be attended by some 25 men of the Upper Peninsula, will be held at the Northland hotel here April 1, it was announced yesterday.

Problems of personnel and service during war time when manpower shortages become a serious consideration, as well as problems to be faced by the hotel industry in the postwar period with its anticipated upsurge in vacation travel, will be discussed at the meeting which was described by Michigan Hotel Association executives planning the conference, as a round-table, "shirt sleeve" discussion.

Similar sectional meetings have been held by the hotel association in other sections of the state as a means of cutting down travel by hotel men to distant conference points under a state-wide convention plan.

Among those attending the conference will be: J. E. Frawley, Detroit, president of the Michigan Hotel Association who will preside, and John J. Kost, executive assistant manager, Hotel Statler, Detroit, who will discuss means of meeting the personnel problem, but more particularly the steps to be taken to insure safety under an employment program that means hiring of inexperienced help. Mr. Kost is chairman of the association's safety committee. W. S. Woodfill, president of the Grand hotel, Mackinac Island, will also be present and is scheduled to talk on the business future of hotels, both for the coming season and for the postwar period. Mrs. B. L. Thomas, Detroit, executive-secretary of the association, will also attend.

Other subjects to be discussed are: food rationing, priorities, new laws affecting hotel taxes and insurance.

The conference will open at 11 a. m. on Saturday, April 1, and will continue throughout the afternoon, closing with a dinner in the evening.

Mine Case Ended

Judge Kenny, Duluth, said that a decision may be reached in three or four days. Spectators were barred from the proceedings in the city hall courtroom. A news representative had previously obtained permission to attend the afternoon session, but was excluded after a conference between F. E. Hurd, Chicago, Inland Steel counsel, and the board.

Urges 4F Labor Draft

UNDERSECRETARY of War Robert Patterson's proposal to draft 4-F registrants in the 18-38 age group for essential industry is a method of solving the manpower problem that deserves careful consideration. Patterson contends that there is something wrong with a situation, such as exists at present, in which two men of the same age are called for induction by selective service, with one accepted for military duty and trained for fighting overseas and the other rejected for military service due to a minor physical defect and permitted to engage in an occupation that will contribute nothing to the winning of the war.

Patterson estimates that there are at least 1,000,000 4-F's capable of working who are now engaged in occupations that are not essential to the war program or to necessary civilian activity.

The picture as presented by Patterson obviously does appear unfair, but a point that bears attention is whether Patterson's scheme, if put into practice, might not develop into something even more unfair.

Take the hypothetical case of two 4-F's of the same age group and of equal skills in which one is ordered to work in a busy war factory at which he can earn, say, $75 per week, and the other is ordered to work on a farm where working conditions may be less than ideal at a salary of perhaps only one-fourth that of the war worker. At least the boys inducted into the armed forces all go in on the same pay scale and with equal working and living conditions.

The scheme as proposed by Patterson is not workable as long as there is such marked disagreement on the manpower needs as that which exists between Patterson and Paul McNutt, the war manpower chairman, who contends the manpower situation is not critical.

There is at least one other part to this manpower picture that bears consideration. That is the oft-repeated charge that many war plants are hoarding labor not required in those plants. If there is any truth at all in this charge, those plants should be forced to disgorge that surplus labor before any thought is given to legislation compelling 4-F's or any other group to take jobs that they do not want.

Keyes Reconsiders

THE outlook for Dr. Eugene C. Keyes' beating Governor Harry F. Kelly for the Republican gubernatorial nomination does not look so bright anymore, according to the lieutenant governor's own admission.

Dr. Keyes has long had his eye on the governorship; in fact, he has oftentimes confessed this ambition. Through extensive advertising and publicity campaigns, the doctor-lawyer was given an impressive vote in his successful campaign for lieutenant-governor, all of which apparently went to his head for he led himself to believe he could dispose of Governor Kelly.

The fly in the ointment, as far as the lieutenant-governor is concerned, is that Governor Kelly also has always demonstrated himself to be a good vote-getter. His performance during his first term as the state's chief executive has increased his political stature, and knowing this, Dr. Keyes will likely decide to run for the lieutenant-governorship again.

Maple Sap Running

THE sap is running in the maple sugar bushes of Delta county, and a number of farmers and families are busy bringing in pailsful and boiling it into syrup to be sold at stores and homes in Escanaba and elsewhere.

Sugar bushes afford an opportunity to farmers to earn some supplementary income during a dull period of the year, although this is not so true in wartime when many tillers of the soil are also busily engaged in getting out pulpwood and other forest products.

In Vermont and New Hampshire the maple syrup and sugar industry is of considerable importance. Sugar bushes have been operated for many years, and the fame of their products has become of nation-wide scope. The wartime demand for maple veneer and lumber, however, has been making deeper inroads into the sugar bushes, a matter which is of serious concern to agricultural interests in New England. Proponents of the maple syrup industry point out that the trees should bte conserved to provide a permanent source of income for their owners. With them, it is the same as the old adage about killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

No Cut in Pay

GENERAL MacARTHUR has made a sensible answer to the Australian suggestion that we cut the pay of our forces in the southwest Pacific to the pay of our forces in the southwest Pacific to the Australian army level. He favors raising the Aussies' pay.

A good chunk of our tremendous war expenditure goes for military pay, but certainly the American taxpayer doesn't begrudge it. Nor does he think that our G. I.'s at $50 per month and keep, plus overseas pay, are being overpaid.

From what we hear of the Aussie soldier, it probably isn't too much for him either.

Rationing After War?

WHILE we oftentimes hear certain business interests protesting against OPA restrictions, it is somewhat thought-provoking to learn that no other than Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, has testified before the senate banking committee that controls may have to be exercised over the distribution of consumer goods for some time after the war is over. According to Johnston, the rationing of automobiles, radios and other goods may be needed until the supply equals the demand.

Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, also testified that while inflation can be kept within bounds during the war, there is the grave danger that a wave of spending to obtain scarce goods may bring ruinous inflation when peace returns.

An unbiased opinion of this subject might be summed up in this way. Everyone but the black market chiseler endorses price control and rationing as the only effective way of obtaining an equitable distribution of consumer goods at reasonable prices. But many do not want to give the OPA any credit for it, for some reason or another.

Throws Money Away

THERE was an interesting and amusing story that came from Windsor, Ont., in the grist of Wednesday's news from the Associated Press.

It told how a wealthy Toronto contractor entertained himself by throwing $5,000 in dollar bills and silver from Windsor hotel windows to make the pedestrians scramble for the money. On the same day, he walked into the police station and contributed a check for $5,000 to the policemen's burial fund.

The Canadian apparently is one of the many contractors who have made juicy profits out of wartime construction projects. Probably he had one of the Alaskan highway or Canol pipeline contracts.

SEAWAY 'VITAL'
(Milwaukee Journal)

The St. Lawrence seaway is "essential for continuance of large scale industry in the midwest," says Leathem D. Smith, Sturgeon Bay shipbuilder.

It is essential. After this war, transportation will be vital to every region. What part of it should be air borne, what part carried by rail, truck and bus, what part by water, cannot be accurately foreseen at this time. But that the midwest cannot afford to remain land bound is obvious.

This industrial and agricultural region will have to compete with the regions of both coasts that are now being more intensively developed than ever through the war program. They can use the oceans and the Panama canal. Always it has been true that freight, especially heavy freight, can be most economically moved by water carriers.

It is not a guess but a certainty, then, that the St. Lawrence will become more vital to Wisconsin and all other lakes states than ever. For, unless heavy materials can enter and leave this region without needless resort to high cost transits, the regions having access to sea borne or other water borne carriers will have all the best of it.

So the St. Lawrence project should be built, as soon as is feasible with due consideration for our war effort, to insure transportation parity not only for the lakes states but for the whole, great midwestern area, almost all of which will be favorably affected by the seaway.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

* * *

Q. I seem to remember your saying that "taken prisoners" was incorrect, but for the life of me I cannot understand why. Will you please explain again?

A. "300 Germans were taken prisoners" is as tenacious an error as is "All our planes returned safely."

"Taken" is used in the passive sense, as in the expression "taken by surprise." It doesn't mean that the Germans had taken (active) any prisoners, but that they had been made captive (not "captives"), and were being held in bondage (not "bondages"); hence, they are deprived of liberty (not "liberties").

In the correct "300 Germans were taken (or made) prisoner," the noun "prisoner" has much of the quality of an adjective in that it describes (modifies) the condition of the Germans (noun), and does not refer to the action of the verb (taken).

This usage is quite common in English idiom. We find the same construction (singular nouns resembling adjectives) in such expressions as: They were caught napping; the ships weighed anchor; they were put to death; the people made way, etc.

Q. Please give us a ruling on which verb to use with "none," as "None" (was? were) injured."

A. Either is correct. At first, none (meaning "no one") was held to be a singular only. But most modern authorities agree that "none are; none were" is the form that most writers prefer. Merriam-Webster's states, "As subject, none with a plural verb is the commoner construction."

On The Record

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

On March 18th, in Algiers, General de Gaulle made a very important speech, the text of which was not published here, despite that in it, the head of the French committee for liberation reviewed the role of France in the war, its relations with other countries, and the rules to guide the French future.

Miss Thompson

The speech was moderate and programmatic both for the near future and years to come. It was the speech of a fighting ally, loyal to the common cause, of a Frenchman loyal to France, and of a European loyal to Europe.

General de Gaulle made it clear that the French committee, while it will welcome and need the cooperation of Anglo-American armies, will not accept the government of France by other than a French authority.

This holds for transitional governments. The French committee insists that nothing can be achieved without order, and that all transitional public authority must, in behalf of order proceed from a central authority, with strict discipline. The committee will designate loyal local authorities, who have had no connection with collaborationism, and who will administer pending the constitution of local assemblies, and the calling of a national congress to create the fourth French republic.

—HAS ITS OWN PROGRAM—

The committee of liberation has its own program for France, which will, however, have to be submitted to the new constitutional assembly. It calls for the nationalization of basic French resources and their administration by the state through organs in which labor and management are represented. It "will not tolerate coalitions of interests, private monopolies, or trusts." It would confiscate the wealth of those who have profiteered from the suffering of the French nation, and especially from collaboration with Nazi invaders. On the other hand it reaffirms the freedom of all other private enterprise, "recognizing fair profits as useful." It promises the restoration of civil rights.

The committee seems not to doubt that this French new deal represents the ideas of the French majority. And in his speech General de Gaulle appeals to all classes and parties of the French people to join the committee, "regardless of origins and political tendencies," for the reconstruction of a new France.

—WANTS "NEW EUROPE"—

In foreign policy it is clear that General de Gaulle is for the revival of a new Europe, associated or federated, particularly in regard of its economy, which will integrate itself in the framework of the four powers. He rightly sees that "what hinders the balance of the Allies in the present policy is the absence of the greater part of Europe." He wants to see "a western European grouping as broad as possible."

In a previous speech General de Gaulle had expressed himself as against the dismemberment of the German nation. In this one he speaks of "eternal Germany," "which has become in our time Hitler's Germany." Yet he seems to hope for the re-integration of a purged Germany into a Europe "which will prove again Europe's worth to mankind, reappearing more enlightened by her trials, and able to undertake work of a material, intellectual and moral nature for the organization of the world, once she has crushed the major cause of Europe's tragedies and divisions—the frantic power of Pruzzianized Germany."

—POLITICALLY UNPREPARED—

General de Gaulle does not rant and he does not accuse any of the Allies. But he does express the regret that "the conditions in which this committee is placed do not permit it to have in relations with other great powers a hearing proportionate to its sacred obligations." (To France and French sovereignty). "The result is that in regard to great political and strategical problems presented by the war France is absent . . . a fact of which the nation and her friends are profoundly conscious."

General de Gaulle's speech was made a week after Washington correspondents had reported that the president and secretary of state had decided to turn the administration of France over to General Eisenhower. General de Gaulle stated in his speech that Washington and London had been advised of the committee's plans. Apparently these plans have been rejected. Mr. Hull explained last week that we did not intend to deal with Vichy authorities, and that collaboration with the de Gaulle committee is not excluded. If we do not deal with Vichy, however, there is no other organized French authority with whom we can deal, and the case of General Giraud ought to teach us that we are unable to improvise a stable authority.

Without one an army of occupation becomes just that. The Italian experience ought to teach us the difficulties that attend such an army without an anti-Fascist government commanding authority.

Without a central French authority there will be chaos in France. We are advised by our leaders, including Mr. Churchill, that invasion is approaching. The indications are that we are politically unprepared for it, and that, indeed, we are in conflict with the only organized, pro-ally political authority.

"Ach, Such Loyalty! It Is So-o Bootiful!"

By The Bugler

OF REFINEMENT — Column readers will recall discussion of a few weeks back on how Grandmother managed to keep so sweetly clean and attractive without all the modern beauty aids. One communication to the Bugler ascribed this to Grandmother's habit of keeping early hours and avoiding tavern tankards. This contributor also praised Grandmother for the phenomenal bathing job she did from a pitcher and bowl, located on a stand in the bedroom.

Dunathan

Now comes another contribution, this time from one of a family which apparently had more than the usual advantages. She is Madame Colburn-Apfebeck, 419 First Avenue south, Escanaba, who dates her letter March 17, 1944, and in a postscript writes "On my father's side, our ancestors were princes and lords in Ireland. I was a Miss Riley."

Madame Colburn - Apfelbeck writes of the gracious days of living, when refinement there was for certain families who had housing advantages most Michigan pioneers did not have. The Bugler, nostalgia overcoming him, admits to a youth which did not have such a bathtub as Madame Colburn - Apfelbeck describes. Rather his recollection is of a large wooden tub in the steamy kitchen of a Saturday evening, where we scrubbed away at the week's collection of boyish dirt—assisted by a stout brush and strong brown soap.

But let's hark to the story of the gracious ways of gracious days described by Madame Colburn-Apfelbeck.

* * *

DEAR BUGLER—I for one would like to take a pot shot at the insufferable little peanut who has the monumental lack of knowledge to slander Grandmother, Great-Grandmother and Great-Great-Grandmother.

My Granddaughter's great-great-grandmother had on their huge country estate an iron bath tub. I remember it as a little girl. From a deep cistern was pumped the soft rainwater for laundry and bath purposes. And it was heated before the faucets were turned on to allow it to empty into the tub.

Also, my grandmother had her own plum-colored broadcloth-lined carriage, with glass windows which could be let down. And there were plum-colored cords and tassels on the carriage curtains. The carriage was drawn by "a spanking team of bays."

Before my Grandmother, married Grandfather, whose family belong to the landed gentry of England (Grandfather came to America when a young boy), one of the men who escorted her to several social affairs was the future Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, then of Illinois.

The equipage he used that winter was the regulation smart sleigh, drawn by prancing horses, with the ring of sleigh bells around their middles.

* * *

THE SIMPLE RITE — Mr. Bugler, let me set you right. Wash bowls and pitchers were used only in guest rooms for over-night guests.

In simpler homes than my mother's the whole family, one at a time, of course, took their baths in a large wooden wash tub, with water heated in a large teakettle, the washboiler and the reservoir of the kitchen stove. Each bather had a fresh tub of water, with plenty of glycerine or castile soap and faintly scented other kinds. A great deal of delicately scented talcum powder was also used, also toilet water and, in the more elaborate homes, eau de cologne.

GRACIOUS LIVING — Those were the days also of great ladies, such as the regal, reigning social queen, Mrs. Potter Palmer, daughter of the pullman car magnate, whose ropes of pearls alone of her family jewels were worth a king's ransom

Outgrown shoes are definitely injurious to child health. Foot deformities, awkwardness and poor posture are very often caused by ill-fitting shoes. In as short a time as four weeks a child's foot may grow from one to three sizes large.

Shoe swap centers are being established in many parts of the country with the blessing of the Parent-Teacher association. When a child outgrows a pair of shoes he may then swap his for another pair that will fit him.

War Vet Remembers When A Jeep Wasn't

Camp Polk, La.—Military maneuvers are nothing new to Louisiana and at least one soldier recalls maneuvering with the Fourth infantry back in 1914 when a mile was a mile and a jeep was unheard of.

Sergeant Alfred Stewart, post veterinarian says: "On one problem we hiked an average 30 miles a day for 10 days. The trip carried us from Shreveport to Alexandria, normally a distance of some 135 miles—but we zigzagged."

The sergeant says his age is a military secret, but admits having gone with the U. S. expeditionary force into Mexico. He has missed only one month and eight days Army service since his enlistment more than 30 years ago.

Ration Board Cool To Sleep Walker

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—A woman applicant told the ration board in her plea for more ful oil than had been allotted that "I have a sleep walker in the family and must keep the house warm for him at night."

Rationing officials went into a huddle, and Mrs. M. G. Boyce, head of the fuel oil department, delivered the verdict — somnambulism was no ground for extra fuel oil.

WM. PROVOST WAR CASUALTY

Escanaba Youth Missing In Action In Italy Since Jan. 31

William Provost, 19, only son of Mrs. Mary Provost, Escanaba, the former Mary Pastori, of Iron Mountain, has been missing in action in Italy since Jan. 31, his mother was told in a telegram received last week from the War Department. He was serving with the American Rangers, counterpart of the famous British Commandos.

The telegram gave Mrs. Provost little information other than that her son had been missing for some time. If further word is received, it will be sent her at once, she was told.

Born In Escanaba

Pvt. Provost was born Sept. 16, 1924, in Escanaba. He was graduated from the high school here in 1942 and last May entered the service. He was trained at Camp McClellan, Ala., and then went to New Jersey, before leaving for North Africa. He arrived safely at his overseas destination in October 1943.

When her son entered the service, leaving her alone, Mrs. Provost went to Detroit to reside with her brother, Fred.

PRICE RECHECK WILL BE HELD

Survey Scheduled Next Week By Rationing Board Panel

The Delta county rationing board price panel and its associates will conduct a re-check of food prices in Delta county next week as a followup to the price survey two weeks ago, it has been announced.

The purpose of the re-check is to determine whether all stores in which violations were discovered in the original survey have made price adjustments, in accordance with OPA regulations.

Twenty-six of the 108 food dealers in the county were found to be 100 per cent in compliance with the regulations in the original survey and these stores will be excluded from the re-check next week.

Most of the price violations discovered in the other stores were minor in nature. The greatest number of violations occurred as a result of improper posting of prices.

Contractor Is Busy

Sault Ste. Marie.—Of recent years A. H. Proksch, Iron River contractor, has been obtaining many of the important contracts for building construction in Sault Ste. Marie, and the new west wing of the War Memorial hospital is his latest achievement.

One of his first fine buildings in the Sault was the Soo Polyclinic, located at Court and Maple streets opposite the court house.

The Malcolm school, finest grade school building in the city, was constructed by Mr. Proksch.

The large permanent barracks building on the south side of old Fort Brady also was a Proksch construction, and it is said that more than a million and a half dollars worth of other defense projects in the Fort Brady area were built by him.

Woods Payrolls Drop

Iron River.—Sharp reduction in payrolls of woods operators because of the lag in output due to the spring breakup is reported by loggers who are being pressed by war-time demand to meet critical shortages in lumber and pulpwood.

Paper mills are running behind demand and are exhausting every effort to speed up shipment of pulpwood to them. Lumber is under closer surveillance by OPA due to dwindling supply in proportion to demand.

For approximately one month the breakup prohibits production and paper mill stocks will be sharply reduced when operations are resumed.

It is estimated that Finland's output of nickel in 1942 was 18,000 tons—or about five per cent of the world's supply.

Treasure Hunt, Down The Drain

New Orleans (AP)—"Down the drain" is no toast but a signal for action to Foreman N. M. Redmond and his crew of retrievers.

And this is probably a better laboratory for the study of what goes down drains in America than any other city, because New Orleans, being lower than the Mississippi which forms a crescent around it and, at some points, even lower than sea level nearby, controls both sewage and storm water disposal with an elaborate pumping system which must be kept clear and clean.

Here are notes from the retriever front:

An average of two plates of false teeth a week, most of them on Mondays. Money is recovered nearly every day and a good day may bring $15. The unclaimed accumulation of odd change goes into a "kitty" which is divided periodically by the crew. Rings, watches, necklaces, earrings and spoons bulk large in the weekly records.

The other day the water board turned over to federal agencies its latest take of toothpaste and shaving cream tubes, yielding 100 pounds of almost pure tin.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET TONIGHT

Name State Delegates; McGonagle Advises He Will Run

Delta county Democrats will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the court house at Escanaba to elect eight delegates to the state Democratic convention to be held in Detroit on April 14. Gerald J. Cleary, county Democratic chairman, will preside.

Attending the county convention will be delegates elected in the 1942 fall primary election. Besides naming delegates to the state convention, the meeting tonight will adopt resolutions and consider such other business as may come before it.

The national Democratic convention will be held in Chicago on July 19.

Chairman Cleary yesterday reported that he has been advised by Clyde McGonagle, elected Delta county prosecuting attorney four years ago, and now a seaman, second class, in the U. S. Navy, that he will be a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket. He wrote Cleary that his decision was made following the receipt of letters from friends urging him to run.

McGonagle is with the legal unit of the navy and is stationed at San Francisco. He enlisted nearly a year ago. Before he left he appointed, with approval of Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell, Atty. Torval E. Strom as acting prosecutor in his absence.

McGonagle in his letter to Cleary advised that he will not return to Delta county to participate in the primary campaign, which will precede the primary election to be held in July.

Plan Speech Class

Menominee. — Specialized correctional training of Menominee school children afflicted with speech defects will be instituted with the reopening of school next fall, Ralph E. Brant, superintendent of Menominee public schools, has announced.

This training, which is being underwritten financially by the Marshall B. Lloyd Clinic corporation, will be supervised by Mrs. Jesse J. Jacobsen, the former Miss Helen Nancy O'Hara, daughter of John J. O'Hara, local attorney.

Mrs. Jacobsen, presently a member of the West Allis, Wis., (Milwaukee suburb) school faculty, will resign her position there at the end of the school term in June to accept the local post. Last year Mrs. Jacobsen was a member of a Grand Rapids (Mich.) school faculty and comes to Menominee highly recommended for this type of work.

Fan Pays $5 Fine

Sault Ste. Marie.—Bud Russell of Sault, Ont., said "nuts to you" —literally—to the umpire in a hockey game at the Pullar Stadium, and landed in the city jail as a result.

Russell, who admitted having a few drinks, was reported as one of a group of fans who expressed their displeasure of the umpire's decisions by throwing peanuts, pop bottles and eggs on the ice.

In municipal court Russell pleaded guilty to a charge of being disorderly and was ordered by Judge Mahlon R. Stewart to pay a fine of $5.

Another Canadian fan, 16 years of age, was apprehended at the ferry dock by Sgt. William Shunk after a thrilling chase up one street and down another.

Chicago Mayor Prepares To Garner Soldier Vote

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Chicago—In the face of a rising tide of Republicanism, at least one Democrat out this way has set up shop at the old stand. That is Mayor Edward J. Kelly, sole boss today of what has been called the most effective political machine in America.

Marquis Childs

Kelly has started to work to re-elect President Roosevelt to a 4th. term. While he is not talking about it, he has a plan whereby he believes a large percentage of Chicagoans now in the armed services will be able to vote, and of course, they will vote overwhelmingly for the Fourth term.

Already Kelly's 3800 precinct captains are making their pre-election canvass. They are ringing doorbells all over the city. They will have too the extra job this year of seeing to it that soldiers and sailors from Chicagoland get the proper document which, when they sign and return it, will bring back a ballot by return mail.

400,000 In Service

Mayor Kelly estimates there are about 400,000 in the armed services from the Chicago area. The proportion is higher here because of the large families of the foreign born. Even if only half that number vote and 75 per cent of that half vote for FDR, the total would help to offset the big Republican majority expected from downstate.

Whether the machine will function with its old efficiency, now that Pat Nash is gone, is a question. Kelly's partner knew the boys in the back room and how to handle them. Some regular Democrats criticize the mayor for standing aloof, leaving the operations job to lieutenants.

Kelly has been in office for eleven years. While he looks younger, he is 67 years old. In the coming election, he faces tough new problems.

Polish Vote Split

The racial blocs so important in this polyglot city are splitting up or breaking away. The Poles were once counted as a unit very largely in the Democratic column. They represented between 350,000 and 400,000 votes. Today, on the issue of Poland's boundary and the designs of Soviet Russia, a split is developing. How deep it will go and whether it can be cured remains to be seen.

Also, signs are evident of deep disaffection among Negro voters. It is difficult to tell how completely they have turned from the new deal party.

As the campaign shapes up Kelly will take a strong win-the-war line. He is concerned over the attitude prevailing among many people here that the war is all but over—except for the parade. At a recent meeting of civic leaders, he was deeply disturbed to learn that volunteer war services, such as the Red Cross and other agencies, were finding it difficult to obtain recruits.

G. O. P. Plays Into His Hands

In this connection, the Republicans in Illinois are playing into his hands with incredible stupidity. They are actually trying to fan discontent with the inevitable restrictions, few enough and certainly mild enough, imposed by the war.

The most notorious instance so far was the statewide broadcast made by Werner M. Schroeder, Republican National committeeman from Illinois. Schroeder is the man whom Colonel McCormick of the Chicago Tribune tried to compel the Republican party to accept as National chairman, a move blocked by Wendell Willkie.

In his broadcast, Schroeder attacked the office of price administration, insinuating that rationing was imposed by new deal bureaucrats in order to regiment American life in line with their political "whims."

"He is with you at every meal," said Schroeder of the New Deal Bureaucrat. "Telling you what coffee, sugar, bacon and canned goods you can consume. He prescribes the shoes you buy and the cut of your suit. He limits your tires and gasoline while leasing it to all the world."

Mayor Kelly is a boss—sure. His machine is fueled by graft of one degree or another—and incidentally, for a realistic account of how the bosses function, see Charles Van Devander's recent book, "Big Bosses." But if people like Schroeder keep on with this insidious anti-war line, Kelly may end up looking like a great statesman. Americans everywhere can tell right from wrong.

Crop-Feed Loans Are Now Available To Eligible Farmers

Ross P. Davis, field supervisor for the emergency crop and feed loan division of the department of agriculture has received an announcement from the St. Paul regional office that 1944 crop and feed loans are now available to all eligible farmers in Delta county at his office, 205 postoffice building, Escanaba.

Mr. Davis reports that there has been no change in the law or regulations under which loans have been made during the past few years, but he stresses the fact that loans are not available to applicants who can obtain credit on reasonable terms from other sources, including local banks and production credit associations.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency crop and feed loans will give as security a first lien on the crop financed, or a first lien on the livestock to be fed if the money borrowed is to be used to produce or purchase feed for livestock. Loans draw interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from date of disbursement and the amount which may be loaned to any one farmer in 1944 may not exceed $400.

Loan funds may be used for any and all crop production purposes including the purchase of seed, fertilizer, gas and oil, feed for workstock and necessary repairs for farm machinery. The amount loaned per acre shall be fixed with due regard for the potential yield of the crops and in no case shall the total amount loaned be greater than the prospective net sales value of the crops to be sold.

Additional information may be obtained from County Agent E. A. Wenner.

In 1921 there were only 387,457 miles of improved roads in the U. S.

Forget The Storm, The Robins Arrive

Don't let that blustery old snow storm fool you. Spring is just around the corner.

You can ask Harold Haglund, five years old, who, confined to his home at 417 South 9th street with illness, yesterday peered out the window to see the first robin of the spring season. It was a big fat one, Harold reported.

Axis Prisoners Are Efficient Camp Help

Camp Polk, La.—Officers say prisoners of war here are doing an efficient job in the camp laundry but laundry lists had to be translated into their language before the prisoners really got going.

Lt. Col. Theodore E. Burleig, commanding officer of the prison camp said these men catch on to their jobs "surprisingly fast" and that they also do shoe repair work for the camp.

The prisoners work on a voluntary labor selection basis, are paid 80 cents a day, not in cash, but in credit at the post exchange.

BEAU JACK HAS BATTLE AHEAD

Wise Money Picks Young Mexican To Outbox The Favorite

New York, March 30 (AP)—Beau Jack, who twice has held the New York lightweight title, is the 12-5 favorite in his 10-round Madison Square Garden non-title bout with NBA champion Juan Zurita tomorrow but some of the wise money is on the Mexican.

Johnny Dundee, the old featherweight king, and Jimmy Johnston, who has talked his way through 50 years of fistic history, agree that Zurita has the speed and style to conquer Jack, making his third Garden appearance of the month.

Both point out that Jack lost a decision to Bobby Ruffin and had considerable trouble with Lulu Costantino when those two failed to follow the orthodox script.

Zurita Mexico's first native-born world champion, possesses a switch-stance that was one of his best assets when he dethroned Sammy Angott in Los Angeles March 8.

The young man from south of the border sometimes shifts suddenly from an orthodox stance to a southpaw style with his left carrying enough of a sting to make the change effective.

Despite the opinion of the two experts, Jack is the 12 to 5 favorite and some 16,000 spectators are expected to pay $90,000 to see the scrap. Jack likely will weigh in the neighborhood of 137 pounds to 135 or less for Zurita.

New Record Set By Michigan Deer Kill

Lansing, March 30 (AP)—The state conservation department's game division reported today that Michigan deer hunters last fall killed the largest number of bucks in the state conservation department's recorded history and, individually, achieved the highest percentage of kills on record.

Hunters' report cards filed up to March 1 indicated that 211,576 hunters last fall killed 65,087 deer, compared with 215,034 hunters who bagged 61,034 deer the previous season. J. H. Stephenson, assistant chief of the game division, said 30.8 per cent of the hunters got a buck last fall, compared with 28.7 per cent the previous year.

He said the 1943 record kill of bucks would be the largest deer kill in history were it not for the 17,000 does slain legally for camp meat in 1941, a practice discontinued after a one-year trial.

Declaring the current open winter has been beneficial to the deer herd, Stephenson said the department expected a good deer kill again next fall.

CUBS PIN HOPES ON TRAFFIC COP

Chicago Policeman May Get Berth On Weak Pitching Staff

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

French Lick, Ind., March 30 (AP) —Patrolman Johnny Miklos kept his arm limbered up last winter directing traffic at a busy Chicago street intersection and now is being eyed for the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff, by far the club's weakest department.

A solidly-built 185-pound southpaw, Miklos left a meat casing plant two years ago to join the Chicago police force and now wants to make baseball aa sideline. He received a 20-day furlough from his traffic duties and is spending it in the Cubs' camp, where his blazing fast ball and exceptional control has resulted in contract talk.

Miklos pitched for Winnipeg of the Northern league from 1936 to 1940 and for the last two years has been the star of Chicago's northside policemen's team, winner of the city championship. He has applied for a 60-day leave from the force. If he gets it he, will undoubtedly get a contract.

"Even if they don't give me the 60-day leave, I could work out a plan so I would be around for all of the Cubs' home games." Miklos said today. "I'd just ask to be put on the morning shift, from 7 a. m., until 1 p. m. Then I would have time to play for the Cubs in the afternoon."

Seven men form the backbone of the pitching staff all of whom got in games for the Cubs at some time or other last year with an anemic showing of 28 total wins against 34 losses.

The "lucky seven" are Paul Erickson, Les Fleming and Ed Hanyzewski who commuted between the Cubs and Milwaukee Brewers last yeaar; Big Paul Derringer, who is growing bigger while he waits for a sprained ankle to mend; Dale Alderson, recruited late in 1943 after winning 13 for Nashville of the Southern association; Lefty John Burrows, who was snapped up after being unconditionally released by the Philadelphia A's, and Henry Wyse.

By Ken Gunderman

Curly Lambeau, coach of the Green Bay Packers, comes forward with the best suggestion offered thus far to halt the rapidly spreading practice of intentional out of bounds kickoffs in football games. Lambeau proposes that the kickoff be repeated as many times as required to put the ball in play—with a penalty being imposed for each out of bounds kick.

* * *

This suggestion obviously is the only sure cure for the malady that has tended to destroy one of the finest features of football. A number of other suggestions have been advanced from time to time, but all have been built around the idea of giving the receiving team possession of the ball nearer the opponents' goal than the present rules provide.

* * *

The football teams have chosen the intentional out of bounds kickoff method as a means of preventing a shifty open field runner from grabbing the ball and running pell mell through the entire opposition for a touchdown. Thus the fans are deprived of one of the most colorful and spectacular plays in football. Lambeau's suggestion would absolutely require the reinstatement of this thrilling play.

* * *

The professional football league, being closer to the fans than the collegians has been a powerful factor in improving the game for the benefit of the fan. Many of the most spectacular inovations have come from the pros and later accepted by the collegians. It may be left to the pros once more to show the way in the correction of the intentional out of bounds kickoff.

* * *

In the first exhibition game of the season, the St. Louis Cardinals, 1943 National league champs, fielded a team that very closely approximated the lineup that finished the 1943 season for the Cards. Exclusive of pitchers, the only new man in the lineup against the Fourth Ferrying Group of Memphis, Tenn. was Emil Verban, slated to replace Lou Klein at second base. Like most of the other teams in the majors, the Cards have a number of top notchers in 1-A but the champions, nevertheless, still appear to be the team to beat for the 1944 bunting.

Every member of the Detroit Tigers squad has been signed to his 1944 contract, one week in advance of the April 1 goal set by John Zeller, the club's general manager. The last to sign was Johnny Gorsica, who was given a compromise salary somewhere between the $5,500 offered and the $7,500 asked. The Tigers have 15 men draft exempt, including overage, underage and 4-F's.

Hit and Miss—Joe Medwick, who led the National league in hitting in 1937 as the slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, has dropped nearly 100 points in batting in six years. He hit .374 in 1937, the year he won the batting crown, .322 in '38, .332 in '39, .301 in '40, the year he was traded to Brooklyn, 3.18 in '41, .300 in '42 and .278 in '43 . . . The Sporting News is conducting a poll, at the request of the War Production Board, to determine whether baseball fans favor more night games in major league cities this year than the present schedule calls for.

Blackhawks Snatch Third Straight In Hockey Cup Playoff

Detroit, March 30 (AP) — The Chicago Blackhawks, who finished fourth in the National Hockey league, sailed into the Stanley Cup playoff finale tonight by winning their third straight game from the Detroit Red Wings, 5 to 2, before a crowd of 12,791 and copping the series, four games to one.

Trosky Comes Back As First Baseman

French Lick, Ind., March 30 (AP) —Hal Trosky, out of baseball for two years because of illness, will make his debut as first baseman for the Chicago White Six in their exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Louisville, Ky., Saturday.

Trosky weighs 15 pounds less than when he played with Cleveland and is eager to make his return to the game. Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich and Orval Grove are slated to pitch.

Bay City Pitcher On Pirate Roster

Muncie, Ind., March 30 (AP)—Bill Hebert, 22-year-old southpaw from Bay City, Mich., signed a Pittsburgh Pirate contract today and accompanied the Bucs on their first spring trip away from the Hoosier camp.

Snowflakes flurried about the Pirates as they hopped into a day coach and headed for Louisville, Ky., where tomorrow they will work out at the Colonels' park in preparation for their Saturday and Sunday games with the Chicago White Sox.

A former American Legion hurler, Hebert won seven and lost two in three seasons at the University of Colorado. He is a right-handed batter and weighs 185 pounds. Drafted into the marines last July, he was discharged because of a trick knee suffered in football at Colorado.

YORK IS CALLED BY UNCLE SAM

Tiges Watch Vulnerable Infield Go To Pieces In Army Draft

Evansville, Ind., March 30 (AP) —Rudy York, Tiger first baseman and major league home run champion, was ordered by his selective service board today to report next Monday at Cartersville, Ga., for his preinduction physical examination. York immediately asked his board to transfer the examination to Evansville.

York was reclassified 1-A several months ago but reported at training camp on time three weeks ago and said he would remain with the club until called for military duty.

York's examination notice thus gave the Tigers a foretaste of what may happen to their draft vulnerable infield. Third Baseman Pinky Higgins, who is to arrive Sunday from Texas, likewise is 1-A. At last reports Second Baseman Don Heffner was in 3-A and up for reclassification, while Shortstop Eddie Mayo was 2-B when he left his winter job at Clifton, N. J.

By latest calculations, the Tigers have four other infielders, but only one is draft exempt. He is Edward (Red) Borom, former shortstop at Fort Riley, Kan., who received a medical discharge from the army. Joe (J. P.) Wood has a 60-day deferment pending action on an application for a navy commission, and Al Unser, who hasn't reported, is said to have a farm deferment. Joe Hoover was put in 1-A several months ago and isn't in camp.

If York is accepted and called for military service, the Tigers may turn the first base job over to Handy Man Don Ross, who has played the other three infield positions and all three outfield positions in his two-year stay at Detroit.

One other possibility is that the Tigers might try to make a deal for Franklyn Heller, who did a good job at Buffalo of the International League after Mike Rocco went to the Cleveland Indians. In fact, the Bisons are said to consider Heller's play superior to Rocco's. Heller is 4-F.

While waiting for further word from the draft people, York participated in a long workout that featured a lengthy batting drill. Manager Steve O'Neill was glad to get in the batting work in preparation for the two-game series Saturday and Sunday with the Chicago Cubs. It was the first batting in three days.

Wheanwhile, General Manager Jack Zeller prepared to leave for Chicago where he will meet tomorrow with George Trautmann, American Association president, and Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, in a discussion of high school baseball. The three were named to a committee at the New York winter meetings.

CITY BOWLING MEET PLANNED

Annual Tournament Is Scheduled At Arcade Alleys

The annual City Association bowling tournament will be held at the Arcade alleys April 14, 15 and 16 and April 21, 22 and 23, it has been announced by Bud Stade, association secretary.

The tournament will include competition in the five-man team event, doubles and singles. Entries must be made before April 10 with Secretary Stade.

Bowlers are permitted to roll twice in the five-man event, provided they have rolled in two leagues during the regular season. Each bowler, however, is permitted only one entry in the doubles and single competition.

Defending champions are the Granadas in the team event, William Skellenger and Carl Sawyer in the doubles, and Nick Bink in the singles. The Granadas copped the team championship last season with a 2984 total, followed by the Kiwanis No. 3 team with 2947.

Skellenger and Sawyer rolled 1301 in the doubles for top honors with Cecil LaCombe and Arthur Erdman second with 1294. Bink's singles championship was earned with a 674 series with Wes Smith second with 661. All scores include handicaps.

Mack Has Notion To Sign Simmons

Frederick, Md., March 30 (AP)—Connie Mack is seriously considering signing Al Simmons, now a coach with the Philadelphia Athletics, as an active player, he said today.

"I'll make up my mind definitely within the next two weeks," Mack said. "As I understand the rules, I could sign Al to a player's contract now, but if I signed him as a coach I might not be permitted to transfer him to the active list."

Simmons, who needs only about 70 hits to join the exclusive 3,000-hit club, has been batting well in exhibition contests.

FIRE FIGHTING CREW LINED UP

Less Manpower Is Available This Year, Says Forest Service

Due to changing conditions created by the war, the U. S. Forest Service will probably have less manpower available for forest fire fighting detail next summer but the service will have sufficient personnel immediately available to adequately handle all but major fire sweeps, it was indicated yesterday by district officials.

During the past two years the Forest Service has had a large and reliable source of manpower for major fire fighting in the personnel of the U. S. Army at Fort Brady, but this contingent has been reduced drastically since a year ago. Nevertheless, the army authorities have again agreed to provide whatever assistance they can from their ranks in the event of a large fire outbreak in the Hiawatha and Marquette National Forests.

The major source of fire fighting personnel, however, will come as usual from farm groups, loggers and industries. Nearly every industrial plant in the area has promised all of its labor to assist in fire fighting when and if the occasion requires. Hundreds of fire fighters can be recruited from this source alone in the event of a large outbreak, but the total will still be considerably less than in previous years.

In recognation of the manpower shortage, the Forest Service has conducted an energetic recruiting program among the upper peninsula high schools. Indications are that the school boys will be available in greater numbers than ever before for fire fighting duty if their services are needed.

The Forest Service concedes, however, that a huge forest fire sweeping over thousands of acres would constitute a personnel problem that would be most difficult to solve. In such an event, it probably would be necessary to import fire fighters from areas outside the peninsula, it was indicated.
